

Product Development Manager

San Giovanni Valdarno (AR)

Full-Time

Visia Imaging Srl is a leading technology company in Italy that designs, engineers and manufactures hardware and software solutions for the ophthalmic and optometric markets.

Founded in 1993, VISIA Imaging has experienced considerable growth in recent years, thanks to the development of proprietary technologies and innovative medical-diagnostic equipment.

From July 2021 VISIA Imaging became part of the Topcon group, a world leader in the creation, production and sale of ophthalmology products. Topcon is also a world leader in agriculture and infrastructure. VISIA Imaging's role in the Topcon Group is to design and manufacture devices oriented to the anterior segment of the eye.

We are looking for real team players who also know how to work independently.

Do you want to work in a transparent workplace and be part of a renowned international company?

Then please contact us!

The Product Manager that we are looking for will be of an inbound type, and not outbound.

The Essential Roles and Responsibilities for our Product Manager will be:

- In collaboration with the Commercial and Marketing manager, collects the design inputs
- Performs initial feasibility analysis of projects
- Manages the prototype of a new product , arranges verification and validation
- Oversees product development amongst all team members
- Together with the Head of R&D, arranges a detailed schedule for time and resources, and ensures that every phase of the project proceeds as scheduled
- Performs Periodic reviews and documents progress.
- Produces the project documentation or supervises the compilation
- Assures that final design transfer is properly managed
- Assures that Quality standards are met in the process of creating the new product.
- Makes adjustments to a development plan whenever necessary, and proposes to the management
- Follow the product in all aspects during its lifetime
- Reports to the management

Plus

- We prefer an Academic background (MSc.) in industrial Design, Product Management, Engineering or similar relevant education.
- Experience more than 5 years, preferably in a similar job as internal Product Manager responsible for the end-to-end process of product development
- He will report to the Head of R&D.
- Preferably we are looking to a candidate in the area of Arezzo. However, international candidates are also considered, as far as they are willing to settle in the area of the company.
- Fluent in speaking and writing English (a must).

Curriculum's should be sent in the English language..

Company Sector:

Engineering industry

Scheduled classification:

Economic framework to be measured on the basis of actual working experience gained.

Contatti:

hr.hcs.it@topcon.com

Telefono:

+39 055 9121635